

"This is a great web company. It's nice to see a website dedicated to older dogs. They are so special and need extra little things like this."

Katie Moore, Lubbock, TX

"As with anything new, I was somewhat skeptical. But with your honest approach and great information on the website, I opted to try two packages. Roxie loves them. Thanks for the Arthritic Relief Cookies."

M. Albers, Redwood City, CA

"The Arthritis Relief Cookies have made a tremendous change in my basset hound Fred. He now climbs back on the sofa, can walk long distances and has much more energy. I am very happy I found your site and tried your product. Fred and I thank you and wish you continued success."

Emely Lopex, Maimi, Fla

"I showed my vet the list of ingredients that you were kind enough to e-mail me. He said it was ok to go ahead and try them. My dog is 8 years old and a new diabetic. Casy loves the cookies and we are reordering again. Thanks so much."

A. Richardson, Trenton, Mich.

"Fantastic treats! My dog begs for her insulin shot so she can have her cookie. Thanks."

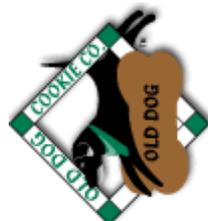

Jane Hamon, Fayetteville, Ark

"Jef, thanks for the prompt call back. My Siberian husky, Mitka, absolutely loves his cookies. I can hardly hold him back when I walk him. So I have no doubt that these have helped him.."

Old Dog Cookie Company

is dedicated to the health of your Best Friend.

The Old Dog Cookie Company believes that a diet rich in simple foods promotes good health and contributes to your pet's abilities to fight disease and injury. Herbs have been used successfully for centuries to treat injury and disease in animals. In the wild, animals instinctively seek out herbs when they are sick or injured. The therapeutic value of these plants is well documented.

Herbs can be tonics, strengthening tissues in specific areas of the body. Many herbs are highly nutritious, providing essential vitamins, minerals and other nutrients in your pet's diet. Our products combine gentle healing properties of herbs with foods rich in vitamins and minerals. Each recipe is carefully formulated to improve the health of your pet - and our cookies taste good too!

Most commercial dog biscuits contain additives, chemicals, dyes, and by-products. Our dog deserves better and so does yours. That's the real difference between our products and other dog treats.

Supplementing our dog's diet with Old Dog Cookies is one way to reward your best friend and also improve the quality of his health.

Diabetic Cookies

These diabetic treats contain ingredients known to reduce blood sugar. Fiber and herbs can help slow down the rate of food metabolism, allowing your dog to manage insulin requirements better. The brewers yeast in these cookies aid in using blood glucose more effectively. The garlic helps stimulate digestive function. Each ingredient was selected for its nutritive and health benefits. Remember that diabetic pets need regular veterinary care. Consistent exercise and optimum weight maintenance also decrease your pet's insulin needs.

Arthritis Relief Cookies

These cookies were formulated when our dog, Jetty, developed signs of arthritis. Taking long walks, playing ball and climbing stairs were causing discomfort. By supplementing Jetty's diet with cookies containing herbs, vitamins, minerals and essential elements known to build strong joints and relieve inflammation, Jetty is her playful self again. Alfalfa and kelp are used to reduce the discomforts of arthritis. Proper amounts of Vitamin C are necessary for good adrenal function. Without them, Jetty couldn't make enough cortisone — resulting in arthritic symptoms. That's why pure applesauce is in our cookies.
